NAPLES ET LE MONT-CASSIN

RareBooksClub. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 40 pages. LC Number: KF27 . E5515 2006e OCLC Number: (OCoLC)74323274 Subject: Electronic games -- Age suitability ratings -- United States. Excerpt: . . . ate the sophistication and stealth of the ways inappropriate content can be delivered to our children. This type of virtual reality, violence, and sexual content undermines the efforts of parents as responsible caregivers to their children. Parents should not be required to defend constantly against the increasing media and marketing onslaught of excessively violent and sexually explicit video and computer games. Media, marketing, and a delivery technology, computers, PDAs, and cell phones have become omnipresent in and outside the home. More needs to be done by the industries involved which have the money, they have the resources and expertise to better protect our children. Ratings need to be cleaner, clearer, and more universal. Hidden content and the use of mods to evade ratings need to be met with more severe penalties. Retail stores need to be more vigilant in how they verify the age of customers both on line and at the point of sale. Technology, though, can do a lot. For example, parental control technologies like those found on the Microsoft X-Box allowing playing consoles to read ratings and allow parents to prohibit certain content from being played even if the child has it in hand. And this is progress. I also very strongly urge the Federal Trade Commission to report to Congress on the Grand Theft Auto controversy as requested by congressional resolution last summer, and it should start getting tough with these companies like Take Two Interactive that flout the law and continue to exploit our kids with violence and hate. And finally, my colleagues, as they say, a picture...
