Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from A Sketch of the History of Erastianism: Together With Two Sermons on the Reality of Church, and on the Principle of Church Authority Religion addresses itself so directly to the inner nature, and is so much concerned with the feelings and duties of individuals, that men are apt to attach inferior interest to its public concerns and collective character. And yet there are occasions when these likewise require attention. The Christian faith was originally proclaimed as the germinant principle of a society; and it cannot be otherwise than important that it should be perpetuated among ourselves under conditions not inconsistent with its original constitution and organic laws. This is matter of especial concernment to the clergy, who are bound by solemn engagements to minister the Doctrine and Discipline of Christ, not only as this Church and realm hath received the same, but likewise as the Lord hath commanded. And obvious circumstances make the subject peculiarly interesting at the present day. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find...
