Open University Press. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, How to Do a Systematic Literature Review in Nursing: A Step-by-Step Guide, Josette Bettany-Saltikov, "This is an excellent book which explains clearly the principles and practice of systematic reviews. The order of contents is logical, information is easy to find and the contents are written for a wide audience from student to practitioner. There are copious examples and illustrations and these should inspire confidence in the novice and remind the expert what the essential features of a good systematic review are. This book should be on every undergraduate and postgraduate reading list for courses on research methods." Roger Watson, Professor of Nursing, The University of Hull, UK "This book provides a clear and concise guide for students to produce a systematic review of evidence in health care .The material is presented as a logical series of steps starting with developing a focussed question up to completing the review and disseminating its findings. .To facilitate the review a number of blank forms are presented for the reader to copy and complete in relation to the topic which they are pursuing .I would wholly recommend this text." Ian Atkinson, previously Senior Lecturer in Research Methods & Assistant Editor Journal of Clinical Nursing Does the idea of writing a systematic literature review feel daunting?
