Reviews

A high quality pdf as well as the typeface applied was exciting to see. It really is written in simple words and phrases rather than difficult to understand. You will not really feel monotony at any time of your time (that's what catalogs are for relating to in the event you question me).

From (122) and (126), the value of the least angular separation between two object points is $\alpha = 1.22 \frac{\lambda}{a}$ where a is the diameter of the round centric aperture of the lens, v is the image distance, λ is the wave-length of the light, and r is the distance between two image points at the limit of resolution. In this equation r is taken to be the radius of the diffraction disk of one of the image points. Writing the above equation in the form (129) $\alpha = 1.22 \frac{\lambda}{a}$ we see that the smallest resolvable detail in the image, expressed in wave-lengths, is proportional to the ratio of the focal length of the lens to its aperture. Since for a system of lenses the effective aperture is that of the smallest aperture in the system, and since λ is the same for each lens, it follows that the resolving power of a lens system is that of the lens which has the smallest resolving power. 38. Absolute and Relative Indices of Refraction.--The ratio of the speeds of light in vacuo to the speed in a given medium is called the absolute index of refraction of the medium. The ratio of the speeds of light in any two media is called the index of refraction of the second medium relative to the first. Thus, representing...
